School days next week for students

Students and teachers will get re-acquainted this week following summer vacation as registration gets underway on Monday with the school bells calling for the return to classes on Thursday.

Classes will resume Thursday with an expected increase of more than 200 students hiking the projected enrollment for fall to 3,590.

A shift in bus routes which was designed to lessen the student load for Gene Howe Elementary School will boost the enrollment for Rex Reeves Elementary School. New students to the Canyon School system who will be attending either Gene Howe or Rex Reeves Schools are asked to register anytime until August 19, when classes begin. The regular class level registration is set for August 17 for all elementary students.

Newcomer elementary students are urged to register as soon as possible and to have birth certificate and immunization records complete. All elementary students need to have three doses of diptheria tetanus with one after their fourth birthday; three doses of polio vaccine with one being since the fourth birthday; and one dose of rubeola or a past history of having had the disease. All medical records are to be verified by the student's physician or a public health clinic.

Bob Parks, principal at Rex Reeves Elementary, noted that the kindergarten students will be picked up from their regular bus at the school at 8:20 a.m. and will be transported to the kindergarten classrooms in the administration building downtown. The students will be transported back to Rex Reeves so they may catch their regular bus line home that afternoon. Both morning and evening classes will be conducted for the kindergarten level.

In addition to other school services, the district provides early childhood education programs for children ages three through five who may have difficulty on entering elementary school. For further information on the program contact the elementary school principal's office at 655-7116.

All new students planning to attend either Canyon High School or Junior High were due to pre-register with the schools early this week. New high school students should come by the counselor's office prior to registration and provide any transcripts or report cards from the school previously attended. Newcomers to both the junior high and high school from out of the state need to have three doses of diptheria tetanus and three doses of polio vaccine if not done so previously.

All students, who have not had a diptheria dose in the past 10 years, must have the diptheria tetanus dose with a verification slip from the student's physician or a public health clinic.

High school seniors will register August 17 from 8:15 a.m. until 12 noon and from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. that afternoon.

CHS juniors will register August 18 from 8:15 a.m. until 12 noon. Sophomores will be registering from 1 p.m. until 4 p.m. August 18.

Canyon Junior High School registration will begin August 17 for seventh graders from 9 a.m. until 11:30 a.m. with eighth graders that afternoon from 1 p.m. until 4 p.m. Ninth grade students will be registered from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. on August 18.

For the 1976-77 school year, some 21 new teachers have been hired and seven new positions have been created. Rex Reeves will have two additional first grade classes, a new second grade and fourth grade class and one special education teacher. Gene Howe will have one less fifth grade class.

The CISD personnel total shows 209 employees with 59 assigned to Rex Reeves, 28 to Gene Howe, 48 at Canyon Junior High and 49 at Canyon High. The remaining positions include school nurses, diagnosticians and other similar positions.

A $3.7 million budget has been adopted for the 1976-77 school year to be funded with 44 percent local money and 56 percent state and federal funds. The local tax rate has been set at $1.20, a hike of about 25 percent.

Bids are opening August 17 for construction of a $1.3 million elementary school in the north part of the district. The new school will house 18 classrooms for grades one through six with kindergarten and special education facilities designed to handle 600 students. The building will have 41,100 square feet and architects estimate a cost of $1,170,000 with furniture and equipment costs of $105,000.

As classes begin on Thursday, students and teachers will begin plans for their first holiday of the school year which is due September 6 for observance of Labor Day.

Other student holidays will include dismissal at 2:30 for the Thanksgiving holiday (November 25-26) and early dismissal preceding the Christmas Break (December 20-31). Spring break will come March 14-18 and Easter will be observed April 8-11 with no classes.

Students will enjoy other brief breaks with teachers having in-service sessions on October 4, January 17 and February 25. Teachers will conclude the year with in-service meetings on June 1 and will be attending the annual TSTA meetings on November 5, when students are on holiday.

Second site proposed

Two possible sites for the proposed post office will be presented by U.S. Postal Service officials at the public hearing set here Aug. 25.

Opposition to the construction has centered on the site one block west of the Canyon Square between 4th and 5th Avenues.

A group, mainly made up of 5th Avenue residents are protesting construction there for fear it would destroy the trees and atmosphere of that neighborhood.

At one time, five sites were under consideration by the postal service. However, the block 43, west of the Square was thought to have been selected as the primary site, although postal officials continued to say that the final decision had not been made.

This week in a news release about the public hearing, the second site was disclosed.

"One of the offered sites is one block west of the Canyon Square between 4th and 5th Streets," the news release said. "The other site is east of the Square between 4th and 5th Streets."

In calls to Canyon Postmaster Lee Roy Moreland, Amarillo Postmaster C. T. Davis and to district offices in Dallas and Oklahoma City, The News was unable to pinpoint the second location.

Neither Moreland nor Davis were sure about the site and most of the district officials could not be reached.

However, it is speculated that the site east of the Square is located about 22nd Street, between 4th and 5th Avenues.

Canyon's Chamber of Commerce directors last week voiced support for the new post office. The C of C is working now on a presentation favoring the post office at the public hearing, set for 7:30 p.m. Aug. 25 in the community center.

"We want them to build the post office but we're not saying where," C of C manager Roland Black said. "We feel within five years, most of our service will be out of Amarillo if we don't have a new post office. Ours will be too small."

Opposition to construction is led by Jim Palmer, a 5th Avenue resident. Palmer, and others, oppose construction altogether. The present building on the corner of 4th Avenue and 15th Street should be enlarged, they say.

Palmer is also unhappy with the date set for the public hearing. He earlier made a trip to Oklahoma City to talk about construction plans with district postal officials.

It was his understanding that the public hearing would be held either on a Tuesday or a Thursday, he said. He said he specifically asked that a Wednesday not be chosen because it conflicted with community religious services.

U.S. Rep. Jack Hightower's office called him last week and said the hearing would be held Aug. 18 or 19, he said.

The News was first notified by telephone by Amarillo Postmaster C. T. Davis that the hearing was set for Aug. 25. A press release Thursday confirmed the date and mentioned a second site as a possibility.

Parks plan developes in meeting

City administrative assistant Kevin P. Evans and parks and recreation board chairman George Ritter were to meet Saturday morning with Sandor Nagy to begin designing Southeast Park.

The meeting was postponed from last week.

Nagy, retired parks planner for Amarillo, is to design the proposed park. He will draw up the master plan to be submitted with an application for funds for developing the park.

Ritter and Evans have drawing of the board's proposals for developments and of land to be donated by the Taylor family to the park.

With the Dec. 1 deadline for submitting the plans to the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission coming nearer, there is still much to be done.

Evans said the major work still to be completed, other than the master plan, includes a program narrative and environmental assessment.

The narrative must include a description of everything ever to

Getting ready

Paying city's bills tough

BY PAT ALTHEN

If you're alarmed by debts and increasing bills, consider the city's plight.

Finding out what it costs to run Canyon for just a month can be a real eye-opener — and make you glad that making out all those bills isn't your responsibility.

To get a general idea, let's look at the statistics for June.

Total expenses for the city that month came to over $136,000.

The city takes in and disburses amounts from two separate funds, a general fund and a water and sewer fund.

Any payments received over and above those disbursed are retained in the funds to cover months when the city pays out more than it takes in.

Sometimes those funds have to stretch a long way.

Salaries and wages for June totaled over $38,300, about standard for a month. This figure includes the city's portion of retirement payments, incentive pay for policemen, social security, and fringe benefits.

Supplies, including all expendable items, cost the city approximately $5,500 for the month.

Services the city contracted for during June included a bill for seal coating the streets, an unusual bill making the total higher than for most months.

Minus that bill, the city paid out more than $14,000 of the general fund under contracts. Most of the amount was for utilities.

Other items often a part of the figure for contractual services are repairs to city motor vehicles and the Canyon summer youth program.

Utilities take a big portion of the budget. Street lights alone cost a fixed amount of $1,724 per month.

City to buy rescue tool after grant bid collapses

Bids will open on September 13 for the purchase of a jaws of life which is to be used by the rescue squad to help them remove victims from wrecks.

The city decided to go ahead and purchase the equipment when the emergency medical service decided not to give any funds for it.

City Manager Glen Metcalf said that executive director George Loudder and emergency service director Betty O'Rourke reported that there wouldn't be any funding for it. Metcalf added the emergency medical service discovered that the jaws of life wasn't designed to be hauled on an ambulance so they decided against funding it.

He said that they planned on putting the jaws of life on the rescue squads to go along with the ambulance when it was needed.

Deputy Chief of the Fire Department, Joe Rice said that that they "just don't realize the importance of it."

Rice added that if everything with the bidding went along smoothly, the $5,000 piece of equipment should be availalbe somewhere from October 1 to the 15th.

Phone aids aged to keep in touch

A program to help the homebound elderly keep in touch has been started recently by the Senior Citizens Association here.

Called Telephone Reassurance, a committee has been formed to check at least once a week with persons who have asked to be put on the check list.

"When you live by yourself, a telephone may make the difference between life and death," association secretary, Mrs. Gloria Crump, said.

Right now, there are 22 persons who will be checked on and will help contact each other.

Some of them don't have telephones or can't reach their phone, said committee chairman Joe Franks.

"I like to go see them," he said. "I feel I can communicate better face to face than I can over the telephone."

The idea to begin the telephone committee grew out of a need for Mrs. Crump to keep records of the frequency of contact with members. The weekly telephoning of senior citizens became time-consuming.

But a telephone committee is common among senior citizens' groups, she said.

The callers try to set up a schedule, she said, to call at the same time each week or each day. That way, a homebound person will be able to count on a telephone call at a specified time, she said.

"Just to show concern is often enough," she said.

Persons who would like to be placed on the check list and help contact others are asked to call the Senior Citizens Association office.

Contract is signed

County commissioners Friday in a special meeting signed a contract for reappraisal of county property with Southwest Appraisal, and sent the agreement on to be signed by the appraisal firm.

Schedules for the complete reappraisal are already being prepared, county tax assessor Mrs. Audrey Bruse said, and the appraisal team will begin setting up

The American people are so inconsistent.

We've been appalled recently by the payoffs made by major American firms to officials of countries in which they do business.

We shouldn't be. It's not right but it's the way a lot of countries do business including our neighbor to the south.

When you go through customs at the Mexican border you include two dollars with every document that must be handled by Mexican officials. If you do you go through like vaseline through a hot pipe.

If the payola is not forthcoming you may have your goods thrown out by the road for "inspection" for the next three days in any kind of weather that happens along.

When you go to Mexico on a fishing trip, be sure to employ a Mexican lad to "guard" your camp. Fail in this and your camping trailer may be missing when you return to camp some night.

You report the theft to the local police and the chief shrugs. "El bandidos took it," he will tell you. "They is muy bad hombres. I can do nada."

The same condition existed in the Middle East when I was in Saudi Arabia with the Royal Air Force. The British government paid "baksheesh" to the local shiek to keep the Arabs from stealing our diesel fuel with which we ran generators to power our radio equipment.

The shiek put a bedouin out to guard the facility but the arrangement still left something to be desired. The bedouin sold stealing rights to his buddies.

I've tried my hand at gardening this year. I have had good luck with beans, cantaloupe, okra and pepper. Tomatoes and watermelon were a washout.

I've heard of only a few gardeners this year who have been successful with tomatoes. John Brazzil says there has been too much variation in temperatures with hot days and cold nights for tomatoes to do well.

My front lawn has been a struggle. I think the weeds have gotten the upper hand. Cottontail rabbits which range Hunsley Hills seem to enjoy the succulent weeds nonetheless.

My neighbors down the street, the Ross Elliotts have been feeding a family of raccoons this summer. Ramona is especially interested in the greedy little fellows.

You just don't think of Canyon as being a place where you'd see untamed raccoons inside the city limits. Possum and porcupine also inhabit the bushes and grass along the creek in Hunsley Hills.

I can just imagine this area a hundred years ago in its wild state with antelope, deer, buffalo and smaller game converging on the spring-fed creek which then teemed with huge bass and channel cat and was bordered by trees and lush knee-high grass.

Gene Glazener is on the agenda to appear before commissioners court Monday to protest the hiring of an auditor who will continue in private practice.

Bill Tirey has been hired as county auditor at $12,960 a year and is asking for an asistant at $6,600. Bill admits he will not be spending much time in the courthouse but will continue his private practice across the street.

Bill also candidly admits that he will use the county job as a sort of leg up in building his private practice. I don't like it any more than Glazener does. I think we'd be much better off if we paid more for the job and demanded the full time efforts of whoever signs on.

Applicants then could decide whether they want to be public servants or private accountants.

I don't think a public servant should compete with taxpayers who foot the bill for his salary.

Legal aide course is offered

A course being offered the first time this fall on the West Texas State University campus should help ease the shortage of qualified legal assistants in the panhandle area.

Mrs. Willie J. McCall, an instructor in the University's Business Education and Office Administration department says that the Legal Research/General practice class to be offered on Tuesday and Thursday evenings this coming semester will hopefully provide the beginnings of a corps of para-legals for the Amarillo area.

"There's a great demand for legal assistants, for para-legal people," Mrs. McCall says. "We have met with a committee of leading attorneys in this area, and we've had a number of calls from people in that profession saying they'd like to hire the people who go through this course," she says.

Mrs. McCall says that para-legal course work in universities in Chicago, New York and California has been studied to get ideas for the course. "We did this to prepare the people to meet the needs of the legal community wherever they might go," she says.

Students who sign up for the initial legal assistant course need to have a thorough background in legal clerical work, Mrs. McCall says, or have at least a junior standing at West Texas State University. When they complete the course, she says, the students will be able to perform most of the jobs in a legal office except appear in court to argue cases.

Texas Triangles

"TEXAS" triangles for the past week went to a number of out-of-country residents who viewed the performance during the 11th season of the outdoor musical drama in Palo Duro Canyon.

On August 6 Marianne Lundquist of Upsala, Sweden received the triangle from among 1,777 in the audience.

De Boo-Likasi of Zaire received the August 7 triangle from among 2,053 persons viewing the show.

On August 9 the triangle went to Jan and Ken Odelia of Perth, Australia with an audience count of 1,937 persons.

The August 10 performance was viewed by 1,867 with Ashok K. Mittal of Punjab, India receiving the triangle.

Bill Fenton of Kerangm, Australia took home the August 11 triangle with an audience count of 1,841.

On August 12, Angie Trail of Bangkok, Thailand received the triangle from among 1,806 in that audience.

Arkansas State Senator Gene Rainwater was among the guests viewing the show this past week, along with various church and tour groups from across the nation.

Our world

Depression, one of most common modern woes

BY ANN BROWN

America is alarmed at the "Legionnaire" disease which has apparently killed some 27 people. Several states are reportedly spending $25,000 a day trying to find the cause. Would that we were as alarmed about the epidemic that kills more than 25,000 Americans every year.

Depression is as real as a broken bone and 10 times as painful. It has passed the epidemic stage; it is the plague of America.

Depression destroys ambition, depletes energy, and devastates hope. It is prone to increase with the years, but knows no age limit; it can be chronic from 8 to 80. It is reported to be the No. 1 cause of suicide.

Adult lives function in three areas: home, work, and church. One can function fairly well with one area absent or in trouble. You can endure two areas unsatisfactory. But if all three are missing or miserable, you must have help to survive.

There are only three essentials for happiness: someone to love, some useful work to do, and something to look forward to.

The following are 10 commandments that can help the depressed person survive — and recover.

1. Talk it out. Don't bottle up your troubles. Confide your problems to someone you can trust. It may be your mate, pastor, doctor, or good friend. Talking relieves pressure. A good cry can help. These may be all the treatment you need; if not, see a professional counselor. (Psa. 1:1 forbids walking in the counsel of the ungodly, so find a Godly counselor).

2. Live one day — or hour — at a time. Your house was not built in a day, but one brick at a time. If you face endless tasks, don't give up — or try to do them all at once. Try one at a time and do it well. Don't surrender to depression; fight it every hour of the day.

3. Work it out — and mix in a little play. The best therapy yet discovered is useful work. Working or playing even briefly helps. Digging in the yard or garden combats depression. Washing windows, and cleaning the oven or refrigerator may improve your emotions as much as your house.

4. Change your location — or your ways. When you are depressed, escape for a while. Read a good book (the best form of escape), take a nap, watch TV. You may even need to change jobs, or go back to school and learn to do something you have always wanted to do.

There are many safe ways to escape temporarily. (Drink and drugs are "cures" worse than the disease). Don't run from your problems or hide them.

5. Take care of your health. Fighting depression begins with good health. Your habits of sleep, exercise, body care, elimination, or the clothes you wear can create or cure depression.

A tight collar or girdle can give you a headache. Heels too high, a sink too low, or a sagging bed can cause backache. Constipation, overeating, or too much sleep can make you cross and sluggish.

6. Cut out nicotine, caffeine, and drugs. Many people are perpetually tired because they smoke, drink, or use too much coffee, tea, or soft drinks that contain caffeine. Some people can tolerate caffeine; others cannot. A body that is overstimulated all day finds it hard to relax at bedtime. Sleeping pills and wake-up pills are not the answer.

7. Don't rock the boat. Conflict increases stress which leads to depression. It is human nature to seek pleasure and avoid pain. If you make others miserable, they avoid you. Make them comfortable and they usually return the favor.

8. Learn to lose — at least occasionally. Perfection is wonderful — but it is reserved for heaven. You may not can have the finest house or the cleanest one, but you can have the happiest — and that brings the most satisfaction.

9. Visit your doctor and dentist regularly. Do not dismiss depression as "only nerves". It could be a warning sign of a curable or preventable disease. It is more essential to maintain your body in good repair than your car or appliances; you can buy new appliances — or do without them.

10. Try God. No medicine or surgery has ever been able to relieve depression the way God can. The Golden Rule is still the best one. If you are depressed, do something for somebody else. If you have no shoes, look for someone with no feet.

Forgive your friends, enemies, and yourself for real or fancied wrongs. Go the second mile — or third or fourth. Confess your problems to your pastor or counselor. Your burdens may be real or imaginary, but one is as painful as the other; and it takes an objective observer to recognize the difference. Confession is good for the soul — and depression.

If you have not been touched — directly or indirectly — by the plague, you are fortunate indeed. But prevention is still the best medicine. Obeying these 10 commandments can keep you alive and emotionally healthy with far less effort than required to fight depression.

City agenda very short

The City Commission will have a short agenda at their regular meeting scheduled for August 16 at 7 p.m.

Speak up

The U.S. Postal Service has picked an unfortunate night for a public hearing, because Wednesdays around Canyon are primarily reserved for church attendance.

The August 25 selection was, presumably, an oversight. The major opponent here of the post office construction had, he thought, discussed the most suitable weekdays for a hearing with postal officials in Oklahoma City and they had agreed on a Thursday night.

Yet, unfortunate night or not, it is hoped that friends and foes of the proposed construction alike will come to the hearing, first to listen to the postal service's proposals and second, to ask questions or to present arguments against a site or construction.

The sides are forming already. The Chamber of Commerce is supporting construction and is passing on the site. Many of the 5th Avenue residents opposing the site selection are also against construction of a new facility at all.

A tour of the present post office, built during the Depression, is ample argument for doing something to enlarge the present facilities. Postal workers are cramped for space. And there is no reason to assume that Canyon will grow smaller or have less mail in the coming years.

The argument is whether to build a new post office or renovate the old one. Construction opponents say the present post office can be enlarged to the north and that the basement, consisting now of a dirt floor and support pillars, can be renovated.

GSO building inspectors have looked at that possibility before and discounted it, say postal service officials. And the potential appears limited for enlargement of the present building bounded as it is by bank and office buildings and hampered by inadequate parking. Renovation would be costly and the end result would be a stop-gap facility that might still be inadequate.

Construction of a new building planned to serve a large Canyon of the future is a sounder investment of the money.

Fight bine weed

To The Editor:

The year 1976 has not been easy for the agriculturist of Randall County. Drought, skyrocketing gas prices for irrigation, a long fight to keep from being the main payees of an inefficient "back to back" school building war in south Amarillo. Then the most realistic sign yet that irrigation farming is going downhill very fast and dryland farming will soon return to most areas.

What is evident in the middle of this summer seeing the endless patches of white and/or blue flowered plants along the highways, streets, alleys, and fields is that unless we all concern ourselves, the return will be to grazing land only. These plants called bindweed or possession vine are perennial and spread rather quickly and once established, almost impossible to kill. They are like cancer. It has to be killed at its earliest detection or there is little hope to save the land. Everyone is affected. City dwellers find it never goes away and their rose gardens do not look like much with the choking vines and their white flowers. The farmer with but a small percentage of coverage has lost the total value of his land for farming purposes and then tax revenues.

I would like to solicit the help of The Canyon News to make the first part of August "save the area from bindweed week." I challenge the farm organizations of the county to use the efforts normally spent in bad mouthing each other's farm political views and jointly promote a campaign that is years too late but HAS to be done now.

The basic problem is that bindweed spreads mostly and fastest along transportation arteries, where there is no real designation of responsibilities. A small area of bindweed on the highway near me that could have been killed ten years ago with $10 of soil sterilant is now out of control and can now like in cancer only be controlled to some extent and hope for a miracle cure.

I would suggest that the first step be to arrange with the help of our county extension agent, an awareness and input seminar encouraging everyone to attend and that all public officials, county, city, school, and state make roll call. Secondly determine who is responsible for public properties. Are neighboring properties with tax or other incentives or with public funding. To attack vigorously the infested areas in the now relatively free south part of the county and then work slowly into the main infestation near Amarillo and in the city of Canyon and Amarillo. Idealistically, I would like to see the spreader, transportation, publicly fund a close knit Panhandle fight with a road fuel tax of 1/10 to 1/2 cent per gallon.

Martin Luther was once asked what he would do if he knew the end of the world was coming, said he would go out and plant a tree. For us in West Texas, where like portrayed in the musical drama "TEXAS", life is hard, we can all contribute much to our immediate future by planting our trees in a joint campaign of killing and controlling bindweed.

Thank you,
Alvin Kuhlman

P.S. In bindweed control, an ounce of prevention is worth a hundred pounds of cure.

A short summer

It seemed like a short summer. Maybe it's still as dry as June and as hot as July, but summer is over when school begins.

And that is just next week. This year promises to offer some interesting areas to watch. The implementation of Title IX, that bars sexual discrimination in athletics, academics, discipline and dress standards, should be interesting to watch.

The impact of a new school superintendent should also be interesting.

There are also several new programs that bear watching, such as the honors course of seniors.

The school business around Canyon has rarely been boring. And it is not likely to become so this year.

Scarlett gets grant

John Scarlett of Canyon was awarded the Patrick J. Cox Memorial scholarship at the Amarillo College West campus school of vocational arts.

The scholarship, which is for the fall term, is established for students pursuing a career in the vocational arts, said Larry Patterson, director of student financial aid and job placement at AC. He added that the scholarships are based on academic excellence and superior attendance at class.

County to review insurance coverage

County commissioners will review employee medical insurance with an eye to cutting costs when they meet Monday.

Rates will go up drastically Sept. 1 on hospitalization, administrative assistant Carroll Wilson said.

The hike will amount to 19.3 percent for employees and 17 percent for dependents, Wilson said.

He is investigating the idea of switching county insurance coverage to a deductible to lower premiums and has asked Charles Fritch of National Life Insurance to attend the meeting Monday at 1 p.m. to discuss cost cutting.

The majority of the claims last year involved amounts of less than $100, Wilson said.

"We're looking at ways to provide a good insurance program for less money," he said. "And I'm just about to come to the conclusion we need to go to some kind of deductible."

Wilson said there was not much time left to change the program.

"I'll just present them some alternatives," he said.

Otherwise, a long agenda awaits the commissioners Monday.

A storm is brewing over the recent appointment by the district judges of a county auditor who was hired with the stipulation that he could keep his private accounting firm.

Gene Glazener, a Canyon CPA, has requested time to discuss that and in addition, an item listed as "Discussion of County Auditor's and County Treasurer's offices," is planned.

The long delayed conclusion of the ambulance contract is slated as is a review of Kids, Inc. funding. The county is the only entity not to have signed the agreement with Metropolitan Ambulance Service. The city and hospital district approved the contract weeks ago. Last week, Ass't. District Attorney Rick Wilcox advised the commissioners to enter into a separate contract with the ambulance service, due to the difference in the legal requirements for a county and city.

Last month, the commissioners were asked to up the annual funding of Kids, Inc. to reflect the fact that 50 percent of the youngsters involved in the program were from Randall County.

Randall County now pays $2,200 to Kids, Inc. compared to $7,500 paid by Potter County.

But Wilcox advised the court that it was illegal to put any county money into a private organization. Since then, Wilcox has investigated and said it now appears that the county has the authority to contract for recreational services.

Also on the agenda is a review of the retirement system, and withdrawal of securities by First National Bank.

The commissioners meet at 1 p.m. at the Randall County Courthouse.

General degree aids working students

Ray Thompson of Amarillo had his daily work routine interrupted by a pleasant surprise recently. On July 30th, Thompson got a letter from West Texas State University's dean of the college of arts and sciences, Dr. Ted Freidell, telling him he qualified for graduation.

For the average student who has pursued the normal four years of schooling at West Texas, that sort of announcement is no surprise. It was the exception with Ray Thompson, who is a draftsman for a construction company in Amarillo.

"I was surprised; very pleasantly surprised," Thompson said. "I've been attending classes off and on at WT since 1968, but didn't realize I was anywhere this close to a degree."

Ray Thompson's assessment of his educational progress would have been correct a year ago; before the Bachelor of General Studies degree came into being at West Texas State. The degree plan allows people like Thompson to take courses at their leisure without working for a specific major.

The BGS degree is structured to give the student between thirty-five and thirty-seven hours in general education courses, and eighty-seven hours in elective subjects. The student must take at least thirty hours on the junior and senior levels and cannot take more than thirty hours in any one subject.

Ray Thompson fulfilled those requirements over the past eight years without realizing he had done so. His case may be unusual, but it's not uncommon, according to Dean Freidell.

"I've had two or three cases where students have stopped short of completing majors in specific fields," he says. "After hearing about the new Bachelor of General Studies degree, they have checked with my office and we've found they've completed all requirements for the BGS degree." Dr. Freidell says that seventeen got the liberalized degree in May. They were the first to be awarded diplomas under the new plan. Ten will graduate under the plan this Saturday.

Where does this leave Claude native Ray Thompson? Delighted, according to him. "I've always sort of felt like I'd like to be a professional archaeolo-list," he says. "Now it looks like it's more possible." He plans to enroll in Texas Tech's master's program in anthropology this fall and will go through graduation ceremonies at West Texas State next May.

Friends programs are planned

Canyon Friends of the Library were discussing the many ways that the group can best serve the needs of the city library at their meeting held Thursday afternoon in commissioner's courtroom of the Canyon Civic Complex.

Linnie Harter, Friends chairman, presided during the meeting and various standing committee and special committee reports were given and approved.

The reorganization of the Little Readers program was discussed with the first meeting for fall set September 2. The Little Readers project will discontinue for the remainder of August with the September 2 reading program to begin at 3:15 p.m., as will the other fall reading sessions on Thursdays.

Plans were also discussed to conduct a book sale during October and the membership voted to conduct another "Friends" meeting on September 9 at 4 p.m.

Parks . . .

be funded plus other plans for the park, both long- and short-term.

The environmental assessment should specify exactly what each planned aspect of the park will do to the environment.

Evans said, "They want to know what it's going to do for the community compared to what it's going to do to the land."

Environmental standards are set by the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation of the Department of the Interior.

Additionally, there will be maps, pictures, and aerial photographs to attach to the application. And it will all be done at least three times.

Evans estimates that the park will take about six years to complete. He said the board's plans have become more practical, economical, and efficient in recent weeks.

The city hopes to receive funding on a two-year basis. In planning the facility, board members are looking to the distant future, to completion and beyond.

Tentative plans for the first two years of funding include completion of two baseball diamonds, three tennis courts, a concession/restroom building, storage for the ballpark, two parking lots, a playground and about one-third of the roadbed.

The next two years, board members hope to add a picnic area, another baseball diamond, basketball courts, and more of the roadbed.

Phase three of the development will possibly mean constructing a bikepath, filling in a section of land, and finishing the park road.

Evans stressed the need for public concern. He said, "We need a new park facility pretty bad . . . but we'll have to have the public's support to make it work."

Parks and recreation board members are still seeking donations of any kind for the facility.

Nagy is expected to complete the master plan in one to two months. If it takes longer than a month, Evans said the application will have to be started before the plan is ready.

Welcome neighbor

Being originally from the Texas Panhandle and liking the small town atmosphere, Max Garrison and his family chose to come to Canyon to continue his profession as a consulting veterinarian.

Garrison works as a consulting veterinarian helping in monitoring the animal health program. Being raised on a farm and ranch in Silverton, Max became interested in veterinary work, especially the cattle part of it.

Max and Kay and their two children, Walt, 7, and Cody, 5, moved here the first of August from College Station where he attended school at Texas A&M.

Max worked on the faculty of Veterinarian Medicine at A&M during the 1975-76 school year while he worked on his master's degree. He taught epidemiology, which is a study of the distribution of disease within a population. He received his bachelor of science degree in animal science in 1969.

He has been practicing veterinary medicine since 1971. Prior to coming to Canyon, he had worked at the PGC feedyards in Amarillo and was in private practice in Seymour. Also, he was a feedyard consultant for Jen-sal Laboratories in Amarillo.

Though he works primarily in feedlots in this general area, Garrison has an office at 109 North 15th Street, where he does paper work for his private practice.

Garrison said that he liked living in Canyon because it is centrally located to the feedlot industry and he enjoyed living in a small town.

Kay, who considers herself as a full time homemaker, did not attend college after graduating from Silverton High School. Instead she did secretarial work at Texas A&M to help put Max through school.

The Garrison's enjoy all outside activities, especially water sports and yard work. They both belong to the First Baptist Church in Canyon.

Other newcomers to Canyon include: Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Brown of 1107 1st. Avenue; Mr. and Mrs. Dale Reeves of 1011 Shelly; Mr. and Mrs. James Dodson of 703 10th Avenue; Mr. and Mrs. Gail Shannon of 14 Dellwood; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Elan of 12 Dellwood; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Barnett of 411 Holman Lane and Mr. and Mrs. Pedro Morales, Jr. of 2708 2nd. Avenue. The Garrison's live at #25 Idlewood.

City wells almost ready

The drilling of two new water wells that will supplement the water supply is nearing completion, said Glen Metcalf, city manager.

Metcalf said, "The pumps are set and we hope to be in operation by the end of this month. We are waiting on the hooking of the electric lines to the well and tie it in with the main line into town."

He said that the wells, which were built because of the city's growth and greater demands for water, is about 80 percent complete.

County . . .

office space next week.

Signing the contract has been delayed since the commissioners selected the firm to do the appraisals while Ass't. DA Rick Wilcox incorporated several changes into the document.

Wilcox outlined the changes, all minor, before the commissioners signed the contract. Southwest Appraisal is expected to agree to the changes, which were worked out in advance by Mrs. Bruse.

The reappraisal is to cost the county $8 per parcel of land or about $232,000 for the 29,000 parcels on the county tax roles.

Bill . . .

During the summer, electricity costs increase because of the power required to pump water.

June bills for Canyon also included about $5,000 for the city's participating part in street paving and over $880 for library books.

Capital outlay for any particular month can also include the cost of new meters and service connections. Nearly $3,000 from the water and sewer fund went for such expenses in June.

Accrued liabilities take another chunk of the funds. For example, the city pays 2.1% of each full time employee's salary for retirement insurance.

All in all, it's a lot of bills, even for a city.

Senior citizens set rap session

A rap session for senior citizens to air complaints and discuss problems in life and lifestyles has been set for Tuesday from 10-11 a.m. at the Senior Citizen Association building.

Joe Franks, chairman of the telephone reassurance committee, will preside at the meeting.

Mrs. Michael Douglas Stephens nee Carri Ann Whitfield

Ceremony unites couple

First Baptist Church of Canyon was the setting for marriage ceremonies Saturday evening, August 14, which united Miss Carri Ann Whitfield and Michael Douglas Stephens.

Rev. Jim Hancock, pastor, officiated at the marriage service where the altar was decorated with a 15 bract candelabrum accented with jade greenery, pink bows and burgundy tapers. A matching pair of triple tiered circular candelabrum flanked the altar with arrangements of pink and burgundy gladioli, carnations and mums swirled upward to highlight the candles.

Mr. and Mrs. W.H. Whitfield, Jr. of Amarillo are parents of the bride. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. S.L. Stephens, Jr. of Lamesa. The couple will be establishing their home at 1106 6th Avenue, Canyon where the bride is a personnel officer for the university and the bridegroom serves as a loan and collection officer for the student financial aid office of the university.

Preceding the nuptial exchange the organist, Ann Dawdy, played You'll Never Walk Alone, One Hand, One Heart, You Make Me Feel Brand New, We Have Only Just Begun, Greensleeves, Romeo and Juliet Theme Song, Shenandoah, Climb Every Mountain, I'll Walk With God, I'll Tell The World I Am A Christian and Moon River.

Presented in marriage by her father. the bride chose a wedding gown of white sata-flo fashioned with a v-neckline, straight sleeves and a fitted waist. Sculptured Venise lace and pearls were accenting the bodice and the wrists and the lace was repeated on the edge of the full skirt which swept into a chapel length train. The full chapel length wedding veil was imported illusion edged with matching lace.

The bride carried a cascade bouquet of Eurcarus lilies, pink and burgundy roses and stephanotis tied with white ribbon and completed with streamers. The traditions of marriage were carried out with a ruby ring as "something old and something borrowed", the wedding dress as "something new" and the traditional blue wedding garter.

The bridal attendants wore hot pink organza floor length dresses designed with v-necklines and deep v-cut back necklines framed by double ruffles of organza. The organza ruffling extended to form flounce sleeves and met at the fitted waist with an accenting self bow. The ruffling continued onto the skirt and was separated at the knee to form a v-cut as it followed the sweep of the gown's hemline. They carried bouquets of burgundy carnations with pink roses and had matching wreaths of flowers in their hair.

Mrs. Randy Brown of Canyon served as matron of honor with Mrs. Mark Hall of Lamesa and Mrs. Jim Fitzgerald, Jr., of Canyon as bridesmatrons and Miss Carol Olson of Amarillo as bridesmaid.

S.L. Stephens, Jr. served as his son's best man for the wedding. Groomsmen were Ken Williams of Canyon, Randy Holmes of Amarillo and John Brown. The groom's attendants wore burgundy tuxedoes with white shirts and pink ruffling while the bridegroom was attired in a white tuxedo.

Ushering were Ronnie Barrow of Amarillo and Wayne Tomlinson of Lamesa.

The wedding was followed with a reception in the church fellowship hall where a three tiered wedding cake was arranged on pedestals and topped with fresh flowers. Pink dotted swiss with chiffon overlay decorated the table which was highlighted with a silver candelabra bearing burgundy candles in the center of the table. Punch, nuts, mints and wedding cake were served by Mrs. Merle Kilpatrick of O'Donnell, Mrs. Larry Oldham and Miss Roberta Burrow of Canyon, and Mrs. Wayne Tomlinson of Lamesa.

Members of the wedding party and family friends were entertained by the bridegroom's parents at the rehearsal dinner Friday evening at the Railroad Crossing Restaurant in Canyon.

A luncheon for the bride and her attendants was held previous to the Saturday evening wedding. The luncheon was given by Ann Dawdy and Georgia Blackwell.

The bride attended Amarillo Public Schools and received her degree in education from West Texas State University where she is presently working toward the master's degree in accounting. She holds membership in Delta Zeta sorority and Phi Gamma Nu business sorority and serves as personnel officer at the university.

A graduate of West Texas State University, the bridegroom is working toward his master's degree in counseling at the university and serves as the loan and collection officer for the Student Financial Aid Office of the university. He is a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity and serves as president of the Alumni Chapter.

Marriage read

An archway of greenery with side baskets full of coral colored gladioli framed the altar for the double ring marriage ceremonies read Saturday afternoon, August 14, at 2 o'clock in Calvary Baptist Church of Irving.

The ceremonies united in marriage Miss Jimmie Brower of Irving and Gary Lewis Tucek of Canyon. Rev. Neil Rogers officiated at the occasion for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Brower of Irving and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis A. Tucek of Canyon.

Organ selections were presented by Mrs. Bennie Rogers with Gary Rogers as soloist for the pre-ceremony selections and the concluding Lord's Prayer.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white organza and lace wedding gown featuring a fitted bodice with a panelled flowing skirt which swept to form the chapel train. Lace lined the front panels of the wedding skirt and framed the hemline with lace appliques accenting the wedding train. The neckline was framed with an organza neck ruffle and the dress featured long full sleeves held by fitted lace cuffs. Her chapel length wedding veil was made of sheer illusion and held to a bandeau headdress. The bride's cascade bouquet was arranged of peach gladioli with white roses and greenery and had a lift-out corsage.

Nona Sue Richardson served as maid of honor and wore a coral crepe and chiffon dress with capped sleeves and neck ruffle featuring a fitted bodice with flowing skirt. She carried an arrangement of white carnations and baby's breath with coral streamers. Her outfit was complemented with a coral straw picture hat.

Other bridal attendants included Diann Sturdivant and Kay Moore with Cortney Robbins as junior bridesmaid. They wore mint green crepe chiffon dresses styled to match the maid of honor and carried white carnations with baby's breath, greenery and mint green ribbons and wore mint green straw picture hats.

Carl Wilson served as best man. Groomsmen were Jackie Edwards, Wallace Stevens and David Brower, with Danny Wallace as usher.

For the wedding of their children, the bride's mother wore a yellow summer knit dress in a formal length and the bridegroom's mother was attired in a mint green chiffon formal length dress with peach floral designs.

Fellowship hall of the church was the setting for the reception and was the site for a 9 a.m. wedding breakfast for relatives, close friends and the members of the wedding party earlier in the day. A rehearsal dinner was held in the Sun Garden at Irving the evening previous with the bridegroom's parents as hosts.

For the couple's wedding trip to Oklahoma, the bride changed to a coral pantsuit ensemble featuring a short sleeved jacket with high-waisted flared pants. Top-stitching accented the pantsuit jacket and slack cuffs and the outfit was completed with a corsage lifted from the bridal bouquet.

The couple will be establishing their home in Canyon where the bride is a computer science major at West Texas State University and the bridegroom is employed with Stevenson Motor Company of the city.

A 1972 graduate of Canyon High School, the bridegroom formerly attended Amarillo College where he was on the dean's list. The bride graduated from Irving High School in 1974 and was on the dean's honor list at WTSU and a member of the freshman honor society at the university.

Mrs. James Timothy Taylor
nee Sandy Lea Born

Campus chapel is scene

Joseph A. Hill Memorial Chapel on the campus of West Texas State University was the setting for the double ring marriage ceremony read Saturday afternoon, August 14, at 3 o'clock to unite Miss Sandy Lea Born and James Timothy Taylor in marriage.

Rev. Jack Pearce, First Baptist Church pastor from Perryton, officiated at the ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin H. Born of Perryton and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. M.T. Maddux of Canyon. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Taylor of Colorado City, Texas.

Greenery draped the altar and spiral candelabrum, entwined with jade foliage, flanked the setting. Floral arrangements of blue daisies were arranged with the 13 pastel blue tapers on the candelabrum. A memory candle centered the wedding altar and was lit by the couple to close the ceremony. Pews were marked with large blue ribbon bows, flowers and greenery.

Organist was Mrs. Greg Baker of Amarillo with Miss Laura Smith of Vernon as vocalist presenting Wedding Song, The Lord's Prayer and Annie's Song. The traditional processional and recessional wedding marches were used and a medley of contemporary love songs were played softly by the organist as guests were seated.

The bride attended public schools in Perryton and was graduated from Darrouzett High School in 1975. She is a sophomore elementary education major at West Texas State University and plans to continue her education there this fall. The bridegroom, a 1975 graduate of Colorado City High School, will also be continuing his education at West Texas State University where he is a sophomore student. He is presently employed by the United Parcel Service of Amarillo.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length white wedding gown of angel mist peau de soie and reembroidered lace over bridal taffeta designed with a high neckline and fitted empire waist. The long tapered wedding skirt was styled in a semi A-line silhouette with fullness in the back, accented with a butterfly bow at the waist, to form the chapel train. Inserts of lace enhanced the neckline, bodice, long full sleeves, and the skirt of the wedding gown.

Her veil of imported illusion was bordered with matching venice lace and held to a high full coif. The bride carried a cascade arrangement of white roses, stephanotis blossoms, baby's breath and fern accented with pastel blue satin streamers which were tied with roses and love knots.

The bridegroom wore a white tuxedo with white ruffled shirt and had a white rose boutonniere. The fathers of the couple wore black tuxedos with white ruffled shirts and had white carnation boutonnieres as did the ushers and candlelighters. The bridegroom's attendants wore pastel blue tuxedoes with white ruffled shirts and had white carnation boutonnieres.

Mothers of the couple had cymbidium orchid corsages for the occasion. The bride's mother wore a floor length dress of apricot chiffon with a high neckline, long full sleeves and full tiered skirt. The bridegroom's mother chose a floor length aqua chiffon with cape collar flowing into long sheer sleeves.

Attendants to the bride wore identical pastel blue floor length gowns of chiffon featuring long sheer full sleeves with high neckline styling and ruffled flounces accenting the hemline. They wore pastel blue picture hats with lace ruffles at the brim and carried cascade bouquets of blue daisies, white roses, and fern with blue ribbon streamers.

The bride's cousin, Miss Amy Leigh Maddux, served as flower girl and wore a sheer white floor length dress with ruffles and pastel blue ribbon trimming. She wore a band of white daisies in her hair and carried a white basket marked with a cluster of flowers, ribbon and streamers as she scattered rose petals preceding the bride's entrance.

Attending the bride were her sister, Miss Dawn Ann Born of Perryton as the maid of honor; Miss Linda Taylor, sister of the bridegroom from Colorado City, as bridesmaid; Mrs. Travis Reynolds of Perryton as bridesmatron and Miss Laurie Hays of Bowie as bridesmaid.

Best man was Larry Williams of Colorado City. Groomsmen were Joe Vincent, Mike Everett and Terry Sandefer, all of Colorado City, Texas.

Ushering and serving as candlelighters were the bridegroom's brothers, Rodney Taylor and Stanley Taylor, and the brothers of the bride, Scott Born and Mark Born.

Miss Shirley Unruh of Perryton registered guests at the wedding reception following in Ruth Cross Hall. Miss Unruh also distributed wedding scrolls at the reception where the bride's table was laid with a white dotted swiss cloth with chiffon overlay and drape. Flowers and greenery accented the punch bowl from which a white punch was served. The three tiered wedding cake was decorated with clusters of flowers and was served along with pale blue mints and nuts. The bride's bouquet was used on the table.

Background selections were presented during the reception by Mrs. Greg Baker and serving at the reception were Misses Bobbie Clyde and Charlotte Garrett, both of Amarillo, Rama Estes of Perryton and Katie Lee of Odessa.

A rehearsal dinner for the wedding party and guests was held Friday evening at K-Bobs in Amarillo. On July 31, the bride-elect was honored with a bridesmaids luncheon in the home of Mrs. T.P. Stark at Perryton with Mrs. Travis Reynolds as cohostess. Later that same afternoon, the bride-elect was honored with a miscellaneous shower in the home of Mrs. Dean Slaughter of Perryton where the honoree was joined by her sister, Dawn, her mother, Mrs. Irvin Born, her grandmothers, Mrs. Henry Born of Darrouzett and Mrs. M.T. Maddux of Canyon, and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Willis Taylor, and his sister, Linda, both of Colorado City, Texas.

Following the wedding and reception, the couple left for a wedding trip to Colorado Springs and Denver. The bride changed to a pastel green, aqua and yellow three piece pantsuit for the trip complemented with a white rose corsage from the bridal bouquet.

On return from their trip, the couple will establish their home at 2707 6th Avenue, Apt. No. 34, in Canyon.

Mrs. Richard Noel Miller
nee Terri Jean Raesz

Church setting of vows

Double ring marriage ceremonies for Miss Terri Jean Raesz of 211 7th Avenue, Canyon and Richard Noel Miller of 100-J 20th Street in Canyon were read Saturday afternoon, August 14, at the First Baptist Church of Canyon with the pastor, Rev. Jim Hancock, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Raesz of Tulsa, Oklahoma and is a senior music therapy major at West Texas State University on the dean's honor list. She is active in the Baptist Student Union and former employee of the Railroad Crossing Steakhouse in Canyon.

A recent graduate of William Jewell College in Liberty, Missouri, the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Miller of Abilene, Texas. He is employed with the Family Cancer Plan Insurance Company.

The couple will be residing at 100-J 20th Street in Canyon on return from their wedding trip to Corpus Christi, Texas. The couple both formerly attended high school in Corpus Christi and became acquainted there.

For her wedding, the bride chose a semi-bouffant silhouette wedding gown fashioned of white sata-peau with nottingham lace. The bodice featured a Queen Ann neckline and the bodice front was adorned with Venice lace motifs and narrow Venice lace edging. The dress was complemented with long sheer lace sleeves and the skirt was swept into back fullness forming the chapel length wedding train which was bordered with wide nottingham lace and a gathered flounce. Her veil of bridal illusion was waist length with rolled edges and attached to a bubble lace covered headpiece with venice lace appliques on the side drape.

Traditional wedding marches were presented by the organist, Mrs. Ann Dawdy, and the postlude was from Celebrate Life. Randy Lackey, pianist, provided selections by Brahms, Chopin and Debussy for the prelude. Vocal selections included True Love presented by Miss Dorothy Johnston and And I Love You So and The Lord's Prayer presented by Jim Wilkins.

Wedding guests were received at the register by Miss Jana Hancock and candlelighters were Jay Hancock and Joe Hancock. Ushering were Russell Miller of Abilene, brother of the bridegroom, and Jimmy Goddard of San Angelo.

CPS certification results from extensive tests here

Four local women have been notified they will be receiving the CPS (Certified Professional Secretary) certification in September following successful completion of two days of extensive examinations during May.

The CPS testing was conducted at West Texas State University this year. All CPS candidates must be high school graduates or hold the equivalent with a minimum of three years of verified secretarial experience including a secretarial position for 12 months continuous with one employer in the past five years.

Six main points are covered in the extensive CPS examinations given annually. At last year's count the CPS rating had been extended to 8,500 including six with CPS certificates in Canyon and 12 in Amarillo.

Joining the CPS rankings this year will be local women including Phyllis Custer, Carolyn Landram, Betty Webb and Vicky Head, a university student.

Mrs. Custer serves as departmental secretary for the Department of English at West Texas State University under Dr. Pat Sullivan, Head of the English Department. She has been employed with WT for seven years and is presently taking classes in business education at the university.

Mrs. Custer's husband, Raymond H. Custer, is the electrical trades teacher for Caprock High School in Amarillo. The Custer's have three sons: Tony, who is a chemical engineer in West Columbia, Texas; Mike, who teaches in the Bible Institute and works with a church at Grand Forks, N.D.; and Phil who is a recent graduate of Canyon High School employed with Royal Glass Company of Amarillo.

Aside from her work, Mrs. Custer's special interests include, reading, bicycling, sewing and bowling. She is a member of the Tierra Blanca Chapter of the National Secretaries Association, International in Canyon and serves as recording secretary. She has also just completed two years as secretary-treasurer for the Texas Public Employees Association (TPEA) at West Texas State University and was on the state resolutions committee.

Carolyn Landram will also be receiving the CPS certification in September after successful completion of the spring tests at WTSU. Mrs. Landram has been an instructor at the university with the Business Education and Office Administration Department for seven years.

She did undergraduate studies at the University of Oklahoma and Southeastern State University in Oklahoma, later obtaining the master's degree in her field at West Texas State University. She serves as the advisor and sponsor for the FSA (Future Secretaries Association) at West Texas State University and is a new member of the National Secretaries Association.

Mrs. Landram's husband, Dr. Frank Landram, is associated with the Business Administration Department of West Texas State. The couple has three children including: Kim, who is a junior at Canyon High School; Angie, an eighth grade student at Canyon Junior High School; and Lance, a second grade student at Rex Reeves Elementary School.

Betty Webb, who is employed as secretary for the Student Affairs Office of Dr. T. Paige Carruth, has been at her present position some 13 months. She is a member of the NSA (National Secretaries Association) with the Palo Duro Chapter of Amarillo. She has served the chapter two terms as recording secretary, secretary-treasurer, and is presently serving her second term as first vice president of the chapter.

She and her husband, Charles Webb, have two daughters including Shanna, who will be attending West Texas State University this fall, and Tyra, who will be a sixth grade student at Rex Reeves Elementary. Her husband is a technician employed with ASARCO, previously with the Pantex operation for some 15 years.

University student, Vicki Head, passed all six parts of the CPS testing and is presently completing her work experience with an oil company in Midland. Miss Head is the daughter of Doyle Head of Midkiff, Texas and held a 2.7 average as a university student at West Texas State.

She attended West Texas State for the past three years and was the scholarship winner for the National Secretaries Association award in 1975. The scholarship allowed for Miss Head to continue her secretarial studies for an additional year. She served also as the president of the Future Secretaries Association at the university.

Carolyn Landram, seated, and Phyllis Custer were among four local secretaries successfully completing the extensive two day tests for the CPS rating this spring at West Texas State University. CPS certificates will be presented in September.

Candlelight nuptials

Candlelight ceremonies were read August 7 at Paramount Baptist Church of Amarillo uniting Miss Victoria Anne McFarlin in marriage with Russell Alan Gibbs.

Rev. C.N. "Shad" Rue, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremonies. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. Heiskell of Fritch and the late Robert J. McFarlin of Middlewell Community near Dumas. The bride is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. R.B. McFarlin, formerly Alice Prichard of Canyon. She is also a niece of Canyon residents, Mrs. Lois Prichard and Mrs. Pat Zello. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Marion R. Gibbs of 1406 8th St., Place 36 in Canyon.

Fifteen bract candelabrum bearing ivory candles with highlighting jade foliage flanked the altar area and spiraling candelabrum with matching arrangements completed the setting for the exchange of marriage vows.

For her wedding, the bride selected a formal wedding gown of candlelight satin and re-embroidered lace designed with a fitted bodice and sheer victorian neckline of English net, with scattered seed pearls. Lace enhanced the fitted neckline and traced a pattern over the long tapered sleeves and over the bands. Miniature buttons and loops completed the wrist and back closings of the wedding gown.

The bride was given in marriage by Harold R. Heiskell, her stepfather. Her A-line wedding skirt was framed by a scalloped hemline which swept into back fullness cascading into a full chapel train. Lace appliques formed an apron front and back panels for the wedding skirt. The bridal veil extended into tiers which cascaded the full length over the wedding train. Arranged on a candlelight satin colored Bible, the bride's bouquet was an arrangement of gardenias and apricot roses tied with ivory ribbon and completed with streamers. She wore diamond earrings which were a gift from the bridegroom, had her mother's wedding garter and a penny minted the year of her birth to carry out the marriage traditions.

Mrs. Rodney Saylor, organist, presented appropriate nuptial selections and accompanied Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Gibson and Gay and April Gibson for the musical service. The bride presented the vocal rendition of the benediction prayer during the evening.

Miss Jamie McFarlin, sister of the bride, from Canyon attended as the maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Sandy Schulz of Amarillo, Mrs. Tom (Jan) Rose of Lubbock and Mrs. Doug (Jenie) McCause of Canyon.

Costumes worn by the bridal attendants featured apricot knit designed with a fitted bodice and long sleeves with A-line skirts. They carried arrangements featuring tangerine, apricot and champagne carnations surrounding votive cup candles and completed with ivory bows and streamers.

Wayne Smith of Waco served as best man. Groomsmen were Joe Childs of Roswell, New Mexico, Allen Nance of Waco and Steve Smith of Temple. Ushering were Doug McCause of Canyon and Tom Rose of Lubbock.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the church previous to the couple departing on their wedding trip to the Dallas area. For travel the bride changed to an aqua knit pantsuit with floral silk blouse in a layered styling which was complemented with a corsage lifted from the bridal bouquet.

The couple will establish their home at 712 Hamsted #214 in Fort Worth, and the bridegroom will be attending Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary there. The bride is a graduate of Dumas High School and West Texas State University at Canyon and the bridegroom has graduated from Midland High School and Baylor University.

Wedding gifts were presented for the couple's new home at showers conducted in Canyon, Amarillo and Dumas previous to the wedding. A rehearsal dinner for the wedding party was hosted by the groom's parents in the Amber Room of the Travelodge in Amarillo.

Painting on exhibit for project

An original western painting by local artist Carl Smith has been given to the Palo Duro Hospital Auxiliary's project as a fundraising item for use in seeking funds to purchase a heart monitor for Palo Duro Hospital.

The painting, presently on exhibit at First National Bank, will be drawn for on December 15 according to an Auxiliary spokesman. The painting may be viewed during regular banking hours.

Framed by Bill Sternenberg of Sternenberg Lumber Company, the painting features an old time setting with pioneer family in foreground and a background feature of a windmill and building. Tickets for the drawing are being provided courtesy of Haley's Printing in Canyon and will sell at $1 to all interested persons.

Funds raised through the ticket sale will be used toward the purchase price of a heart monitor to be given Palo Duro Hospital, according to Mrs. O.W. "Bud" Parker, Auxiliary president.
